2024-08-28

The European Society of Endodontology is organizing this year's Autumn Meeting in the beautiful city of Krakow, Poland from 6th to 7th September.

Under the theme of "Lessons learned from the ESE S3 guideline process", this one thematic meeting will focus on the recently published S3 level clinical practice guidelines.

The Autumn meeting scientific programme will contain the usual diverse range of speakers who will include renowned specialist practitioners, clinical academics and researchers in an exciting two days that combine the perspectives of research and clinical practice.

Although the focus of the meeting will revolve around recommendations and evidenced-based practice in endodontics, the purpose will be to simplify the message and discuss where we are now in endodontic practice as well as the evidence we need to improve.

With the usual support of our corporate partners and sponsors the ESE Executive Board are confident the ESE Autumn meeting in Krakow will be an important congress for all people with an interest in endodontics to consider what we should be practicing, teaching and researching over the next 10 years!
