TECH-ON! - New technology conference in Krakow

2025-07-31

Kraków will host the premiere edition of TECH-ON! Kraków & Malopolska Region - an innovative event bringing together the worlds of science, business and culture. The conference and technology festival will take place on October 30 and aims to present Kraków and Malopolska as a dynamic center of technological investment and innovation.

TECH-ON! is a new space for the local start-up ecosystem and a platform for collaboration between technology leaders, investors, researchers and representatives of the creative sector. The event has an international character and promotes the potential of the city and the region in the area of new technologies, social and cultural aspects of innovation.

Three main thematic bands are planned during the conference:

BAND: AI - a collision of practical and scientific approaches to the design and implementation into everyday practice of tools based on artificial intelligence

BAND: SPACE & SECURITY - the currently booming space sector strongly intersects in many fields with security, including technological aspects. This band will therefore attempt to analyze how to build effective solutions in these strategic and supporting sectors, while taking advantage of the enormous potential we have

BAND: FUTURE & CITY INNOVATIONS - how does technology and its development affect the urban fabric? How should communities, art or culture use and consume technological innovations? In this band we will hear answers to these questions, but above all we will test the intuitive assumption that the easiest way to predict the future is to design it ourselves.

TECH-ON! is organized by the City of Kraków, the Malopolska Region and KBF. We encourage you to follow the event's profile on LinkedIn and join the Facebook event to stay up to date with the latest news.
