2025-08-26

Safety is one of the most important factors to consider when planning a trip. The Riviera Travel portal has compiled a ranking of the 10 safest cities in Europe. How does Krakow fare in this ranking?

The Safest Destination Index ranks cities based on two factors: current crime rates and changes in crime rates over the past five years. Two Polish cities are among the 10 safest cities in Europe: Warsaw and Krakow, ranked third and fifth, respectively.

What has earned the capital of Małopolska this recognition? One of the best-preserved medieval cities in Europe, it has a low crime rate, which has seen little increase over the last five years. The Riviera Travel portal emphasizes that the high sense of security makes exploring the beauty and history of Krakow a very comfortable experience.

The top five safest cities in Europe are led by Dubrovnik, Croatia, followed by Tallinn, Warsaw, and Prague, Czech Republic. The full ranking is available here.
